Alumni Spotlight: Chris Salvatore '98

I am currently an audit partner at a national CPA firm called Crowe LLP based out of New York City and have been here for almost 15 years. I started my audit career in 2002 while I was attending grad school at Notre Dame at a firm called Ernst & Young LLP also in New York City and was there for a little over 8 years before making the switch to Crowe for career advancement opportunities.

Being a student at Arlington Catholic (AC) was something really special. Going to high school in a smaller sized Catholic school allowed for the development of much richer and closer relationships with fellow students and faculty. My main associations were through sports, where I was really fortunate to be a part of successful teams, while creating great friendships with amazing teammates. I played hockey all four years and was on the 1997 Super 8 championship team. I also played three years of tennis and was honored to be a team captain my senior year. I dappled with cross country and track over the years as well where I have a lot of great memories.

I am sure I had many and the passage of time unfortunately has not allowed me to remember them all the way they deserve to be remembered. However I do fondly recall the following faculty being great role models for me as I navigated the high school years: Sister Barbara, Sister Cathy, Mrs. Prisky, Mr. Grace and Mrs. Reid.

I attribute my experiences at AC to be one of the main drivers that led me to the field I am in today, which is centered around collaborating constantly with team members and clients. If I hadn't developed these skills early on during my teenage years at AC, I am not sure I would have gravitated towards and been successful in a profession where it is critical to work with others to meet the demands of this practice.

Advice I would give to present students at AC is to have confidence in yourselves, relish in your accomplishments and don't be afraid to fail. Falling down is an essential part of the process to be able to learn the lessons you have come to high school to learn, which will help you in real life. Always stay positive as you can benefit and learn from any situation that comes your way, even if it is not preferred. That mindset is the single most important one you can have in life.

We are committed to featuring SAS/ACHS alumni and their lives after graduation in future editions of our alumni newsletter. Do you know of fellow alumni living the mission of SAS/ACHS in their professional or personal lives who would be open to being interviewed by Sister Barbara McHugh and featured in a future alumni publication? Please email Sister Barbara directly at sbarbara@achs.net to nominate an alum or yourself!
